

Outback Roundup 2003

RANGE's 10th annual photo contest judges—Howard Hickson, Marilyn Newton, Linda Dufurrena and C.J. Hadley—looked at hundreds of entries from photographers in 19 states. Color prints. Black and white prints. Sepia. Slides. Large transparencies. Even though the quality was extremely high, there were a few blurred snapshots, badly printed digitals and pictures with dates emblazoned across the photos (all seriously discouraged).

Judging this year wasn't easy. At times, disagreement between the motley crew of judges was passionate and noisy. But after the better part of a Sunday, consensus had to be reached. The ones we finally agreed were best (and received cash prizes) are shown here.

Snap away for next year (see entry blank in next issue). Deadline February 2004.
