

Outback Roundup 2013

Merit Winners

Believe it or not, these are photos that didn't make the final cut. Entries are just getting better every year, and a lot that aren't in the top 10 still show up on other pages of RANGE over the year, in our Real Buckaroo Calendar, and books (and get paid more), so keep 'em coming.

The entry form for Outback Roundup 2014 is on page 73 (and online at www.rangemagazine.com). Deadline is February 7, so keep that camera handy—you never know when that perfect shot will pop up.

Waiting for the mail. A letter carrier finds surprise visitors near Otto, Wyoming.
© Andrea Tolman

Tres Hombres. Three bighorn sheep on Clan Alpine Ridge east of Fallon, Nevada.
© Linda Hammond

Fred Reed, a self-proclaimed desert rat, has traveled and explored the dirt roads of Nevada's outback. His face is a road map of life. © Larry Turner

*Feeding cows on Christmas Eve.
Jim Rodosevich with Okie and Tucci
on the Byer Ranch, Prineville, Oregon.
© Judy L. Neill
(Used in 2014 RANGE calendar.)*

*Express Bar Glow, an American quarter horse at sunrise on the D2
Ranch in North Powder, Oregon.
© Sara Anderson*

*Wesley Mann and the new puppy, Red Barn Ranch, Copperopolis, California.
© Larry Angier*

www.cowsingles.com. Modern technology seems to encompass all beings. Doing morning emails, I saw these heifers watching me watch them at the Wade Angus Ranch, Lostine, Oregon. © Lesley Neuman

*The cowboy and the angel. Tim Wilber rides Reno to gather early in the morning at the home ranch in Clements, California.
© Debbie Bell
(Used in 2014 RANGE calendar.)*

*Protective mother cougar tells me not to get any closer near Toquerville, Utah.
© Carlene Cunningham*

Mane event. Wild colt rears up, Virginia highlands, Storey County, Nevada. © Diane McAllister

*Get to work. Cathy Thompson, dog Bart and horse Rippie, Thompson Cattle Company, Pollok, Texas.
© Connie Thompson
(Used in 2014 RANGE calendar.)*